DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 50 and 61 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 50 and 61 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 50 and 61 disclose "At least one computer program produce having the customization software stored thereon for performing the method ...". MPEP 2106 states "Since a computer program is merely a set of instructions capable of being executed by a computer, the computer program itself is not a process and a claim for a computer program, without the computer-readable medium needed to realize the computer program's functionality, should be treated as nonstatutory functional descriptive material". Claims 50 and 61 do not claim the computer-readable medium needed to realize the computer program's functionality.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 42-49, 51-60, and 62-65 allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fail to anticipate or render obvious the following technical features as recited in the highlighted claims:

Referring to claims 42 and 53 the prior art fails to teach or suggest "A method for customizing a graphical user interface of a digital camera for a particular user, comprising: (a) providing customization software executed external to the digital camera... (b) in response to input from the particular user... (c) configuring firmware to provide the customized graphical user interface; (d) storing the configured firmware in the digital camera to thereby customize the graphical user interface of the digital camera; wherein the simulation of the graphical user interface on the display device separate from the digital camera comprises a presentation of the selected one of the plurality of different actuatable versions of at least the given icon with one or more additional icons arranged in substantially the same manner as such icons would appear in the customized graphical user interface of the digital camera".

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
